Le sujet et la problématique

Problématique

- Créer une application pour aider les étudiants à se préparer à l'examens du droit des brevets européens.
- Permettre aux étudiants l'accès rapide à l'information.
- Génération de questions/réponses.
- Respect de l'exactitude juridique (références légales, jurisprudences).
- Explicabilité des réponses produites par l'IA (sources citées, concepts clarifiés).

Q/R data

2. A European patent application was filed on 6 February 2023. The search, filing and designation fees were paid within a month of the date of filing.

What is the latest point in time for withdrawing the application, if the applicant wishes to obtain a refund of the designation fee?

- A. Six months after the date of mention of the publication of the European search report
- B. Date of mention of the publication of the European search report
- C. The designation fee was validly paid and can no longer be refunded
- D. Date of the start of substantive examination

Question 2: B

Legal basis

Guidelines for Examination in the EPO, A-X, 5.2.2

"The designation fee falls due upon publication of the mention of the European search report. It may be paid within six months of the mentioned date of publication (Rules 39\(1\), 17\(3\) and 36\(4\)). Where paid before the due date, e.g. upon filing of the application, the designation fee will however be retained by the EPO. These payments will only be considered valid as from the due date, provided that the amount paid corresponds to the amount payable on the due date (...)"

I see you're looking for a chocolate cake recipe! While it sounds yummy, let's first ensure we stay on topic with our current discussion about EPO examination guidelines.

The information provided relates to how applications are handled at the European Patent Office (EPO), including requirements for translations and what constitutes novelty in

If you're interested in chocolate cake recipes, perhaps we can explore that in another chat. For now, let's continue with our discussion on the Guidelines for Examination in

Do you have a specific question about the guidelines? Or maybe you'd like to know more about how an application is processed at the EPO?
